Motion by Commissioner Hafley to approve the Avant-Gardens Subdivision final plat. Second by Commissioner Cannon.

VII. UNFINISHED BUSINESS

A. Discussion: Red Bank Commercial Gateway

Commissioner Hafley suggested that the Planning Commission start considering what should be included in an intent statement for a gateway zone. Staff outlined elements of the working meeting discussion and how they could inform the intent statement. Staff told the Planning Commission that they could have a draft intent statement for review at the February meeting. Staff noted that the Planning Commission came to a consensus that the gateway commercial district should be more restrictive than C-1, but less restrictive than C-2 CBD. Staff gave some examples of uses that Planning Commissioners wanted to prohibit in the gateway zone. Becky Browder mentioned the intent to promote high traffic uses, and discourage lower traffic uses such as warehousing.

The Planning Commission came to a consensus that a corridor study for Dayton Boulevard would inform the vision for the gateway zone and all other commercial areas of Dayton Boulevard.

The Planning Commission completed their review of the proposed table of uses for the commercial gateway district. Land use types discussed at the regular meeting included office uses, public & institutional uses and residential uses. Commercial uses were discussed at the working meeting of the Planning Commission.
